Recommendation for Serikuly Zhassulan

Serikuly Zhassulan was hired on 16 June 2021 as a Frontend Developer. Thanks to his independence, strong problem-solving skills, and leadership qualities, he quickly adapted to the complexity of the work.

During his time with the company, Zhassulan contributed to numerous commercial projects of varying complexity. His responsibilities included frontend development, implementation of responsive UI, designs and animations. He demonstrated strong knowledge of modern frontend development, quickly expanding his React expertise to Vue.js and mastering Nuxt.js and Next.js for server-side rendering, as well as GSAP.js for web animations.

Zhassulan established himself as a reliable and highly respected member of the team. He consistently completed assigned tasks efficiently and on time, often taking initiative and contributing beyond the original requirements.

Based on his technical skills, reliability, and contribution to our projects, I am confident in recommending Zhassulan for Frontend Developer positions.
